GUIDELINES FOR USE OF REPRINTS

The information below is intended only as general guidelines.

English and Hindi language of articles in bulk quantities may be supplied only by the Publishing Division of the Red Flower Publications (P) Limited. Reprints may not be further reproduced in any manner without the express permission of Red Flower Publications (P) Limited.

Reprints are available in both paper and electronic formats upon publication. Reprints of articles from Red Flower Publications (P) Limited are for use only as standalone educational materials. Red Flower Publications (P) Limited does not permit reproduction of its name, logo, or text on promotional literature.

Reprints of articles from Red Flower Publications (P) Limited may not be altered in any way. No additional printing may be set onto a reprint other than what has been printed by Red Flower Publications (P) Limited. This includes, but is not limited to, the placement of sponsorship identifiers, trademarks, logos, rubber stamping, or self-adhesive stickers onto the reprints. Further Red Flower Publications (P) Limited does not allow any text other than what has been published by Red Flower Publications (P) Limited to be printed directly onto text reprint pages.

Reprints must be a freestanding part of any information package (such as a media kit) into which they are inserted. They may not be physically attached to anything, such as advertising inserts, or have anything attached to them, such as product samples. Article reprints must be easily removed from any kits or informational packages in which they are used.
